DIDN'T "SCORE" MISSOURIAN

Methodist Minister Writes to Correct Impression of Columbia Times.

Editor of the Missourian: This morning's Columbia Times carries a report of the speech of the Reverend Grimes before the Commercial Club yesterday in which he is quoted as scoring the Missourian for an article appearing a few weeks ago concerning the plans of the Methodists to put in a new plant at Columbia. As I remember the article referred to and also heard Reverend Grimes' reference to it yesterday I would like to correct the impression which the Times seems to have gotten from the speech.

As a matter of fact the article which Reverend Grimes referred to appeared in the "Open Column" of the Missourian, and he so notes, a department which the management of the paper assumes no responsibility for, and was unsigned except by initials. It appeared under some such caption as "Denominational Competition" or "Church Competition" and its whole assumption was that the new plant was to duplicate the work of the Y. M. C. A. and represent an effort to get ahead of the other denominations in attracting the students.

The writer displayed the usual lack of correct information which characterizes those who rush into print with sweeping criticisms on slight provocation. The Methodists have no intention of doing anything except to erect a modern church plant to take the place of the one which their congregation has completely outgrown. Inasmuch as the building is made necessary by the presence of the hundreds of Methodist students in the University, who worship with us, the Methodists of the state are willing to assume about two-thirds of the financial burden attendant upon providing the plant.

Our church has no purpose of entering into competition with the Y. M. C. A., the Bible College or the other denominations of the town. On the contrary we have given an unstinted support to the two first named institutions, having a large representation in the cabinet of the "Y" and providing many students for the Bible College. Both these institutions have been doing a purely inter-denominational work and doing it well and deserve and are receiving the support of all the churches.

On the other hand our church is crowded to the limit at the preaching services and people are being then denied admittance. The Sunday morning Bible classes made up of students of the University are crowded completely out of the building and are housed in lodge halls, high school buildings and the Y. M. C. A. Building. Further development of the work is inhibited and we are at a standstill till a more adequate plant is provided. At the same time the congregation is rapidly growing as is also the town and student body. We are under the necessity of enlarging the present plant or building a chapel for the University contingent of the church and letting it develop independently of the local congregation. We prefer to do the former and with the aid of the church in the state we expect to.

There is the heartiest co-operation between the churches of the town in their effort to minister to the students and no disposition whatever to compete in any hurtful way. We are content to take care of those who are Methodists when they arrive here and such others as of their own volition seek a place among us. This is without the attitude of the other pastors of the city and he who rushes into print under such captions as that referred to above is either ignorant of the true spirit which prevails among the Columbia religious institutions or else seeks to engender strife into relations that are now most amicable.
